

Farrell Kingsley is an editor and news journalist from a small mountain town outside of Portland, Oregon. In his career he has created and edited many books, movie scripts and written many news stories related to local area crime and stories of local interest.

This book is a culmination of research over a 10 year period and is probably the newest guide on how to revenge a cheating spouse or lover.

One day you think your life is perfect.
You have a wife and two wonderful kids.
You have a house, a great job, and a large savings.
Suddenly in one day it is all gone.
And someone else has your perfect life.
What would you do?
